Touchpoints: Your Child's Emotional and Behavioral Development, by T. Berry Brazelton

We See the Moon, by Carrie A. Kitze.

In this book children can ask questions about their adoption and birthfamily.

TODDLER & OLDER CHILD ADOPTION

Many waiting children are older. Today, very few young babies can be adopted internationally. Here are some suggested resources for learning how to create a positive adoption with an older child.

Our Own! Adopting and Parenting the Older Child, by Trish Maskew

Toddler Adoption, The Weaver's Craft, by Mary Hopkins-Best

Toddlers: Love and Logic Parenting for Early Childhood, by Jim Fay and Foster W. Cline

The Waiting Child: How the Faith and Love of One Orphan Saved the Life of Another, by Cindy Champnella

An incredible true story, honestly depicting the love, loss, suffering, healing and hope that come together in older child adoption.

RACE, ETHNICITY, & CULTURE

Many families adopting internationally will be entering a transracial/ethnic adoption. In addition to promoting a healthy sense of the child's culture and background, there must be an acknowledgement of the child's racial identify. For those families adopting children from Africa, the child most likely will be seen as a black American.

Black Baby/White Hands

This book takes an eclectic spiritual view-point. The author addresses identity issues that any/every member of a multi-ethnic family may struggle with (even likely struggle with). He certainly doesn't provide answers (per se), but he does provide questions that should be considered by families walking the path of transracial adoption. One parent who has adopted transracially and who writes and speaks on adoption-related issues, says, "I have found and continue to find Black Baby/White Hands a very, very helpful and needed book."

Cross Cultural Adoption: How to Answer Questions from Family, Friends and Community, by Amy Coughlin, Caryn Abramowitz

Culture Gram

You can find country-specific cultural information on your child's country of origin at www.culturegrams.com. The cost is only $4.00

Does Anybody Else Look Like Me?: A Parent's Guide to Raising Multiracial Children, by Donna Jackson Nakazawa

I Don't Have Your Eyes (a children's picture book), by Carrie A. Kitze

I'm Vanilla/You're Chocolate

This book is not about transracial adoption but is from an educational perspective: how schools can foster a healthy view of racial identity in a racially diverse and sensitive culture.

There is No Me Without You: One Woman's Odyssey to Rescue Her Country's Children, by Melissa Fay Greene

A must read for anyone adopting from Ethiopia. This tells the story of a woman who overcame her hurts by caring for orphans.

FAITH AND ADOPTION

Although these resources may not at first glance appear to enable you to be more prepared to adopt child, we at Nightlight believe that support, including support from your church family, is a very important part of getting the help you may need as a parent. Most likely if you are one of the first persons in your church to adopt internationally, you will be educating your church about the needs of orphaned children.

ONLINE COURSES, ARTICLES, AND RADIO PROGRAMS

Adoption Learning Partners

www.adoptionlearningpartners.org

To help families complete Hague education requirements, Adoption Learning Partners has courses which cover the required topics. These courses are offered individually or as part of a course package. The course packages are available so that adoptive families can take multiple courses at a reduced rate per course rather than paying the full fee for each individual course.

With Eyes Wide Open, Margi Miller and Nancy Ward Can

This is an especially comprehensive program that covers a number of topics as required by The Hague. Available through www.adoptionlearningpartners.org.

The Intercountry Adoption Journey: Hague-Compliant Training from NCFCA

<http://about.hagueadoption.org/>

NCFCA has made training available that covers all of the required topics for education compliant with The Hague. This training can be accessed through their website. Though it may seem costly, this training covers all topics necessary to complete your education requirement, aside from the items that your home study provider/agency will personally cover with you.

“Because They Waited”

Based upon the popular full-day seminar, Because They Waited, this is an educational program especially created to for those adopting older infants or children. The program may also be purchased and used by individual families through the Heart of the Matter Seminars webpage. It totals 10 hours of training and is Hague compliant (except for specific country/child information and adoption process information). Families are given their own set of DVDs to watch at their convenience. Successful completion of questions on the website will generate a certificate of completion.

BG Center Online School, presented by Boris Gindis, MD and Jody Sciortino, LCSW

www.bgcenterschool.org

This is an online course that must be completed in 25 days and provides 20 hours of training credit. Bgcenter Online School offers courses, CDs, publications, presentations, workshops and other material that helps to raise awareness and prepare parents and professionals for addressing language, developmental and educational needs of internationally adopted older children. All information comes from licensed professionals, who work with internationally adopted children on a daily basis as psychologists, researchers, and speech and language pathologists. The on-line courses include (but are not limited to) Adopting the Older Child Internationally, School Readiness and Placement, Screening and Assessments, School Issues – Behaviors, School Issues – Language, and Hosting Orphans. Adopting the Older Child Internationally meets Hague requirements except for specific process and country requirements.

Creating a Family

www.creatingafamily.org/radioshow.html

This website offers archived one-hour long recorded radio interviews with experts in adoption-related issues. If you are a Nightlight client, you can receive certificates after listening to certain podcasts and completing the quizzes at no charge.

Realistic Expectations the First Year Home <http://www.emkpress.com/pdf/Realistic%20Expectations525.pdf>

This free booklet has many articles written by experts. It takes a while to download because the file is so large. This is an excellent resource.

Post Institute, Dr. Bryan Post

www.postinstitute.com

This site has several EXCELLENT training series, and many difficult placements have been salvaged through families' use of his strategies and the understanding/embracing of Dr. Post's foundational work. In addition to the materials he has already created, he is working toward having additional material ready to address the "multicultural families" issue noted in the Hague requirements. Dr. Post is an internationally recognized expert in the field of attachment, the neurobiology of abuse and neglect, grief, loss, and effective ways to work with families who are struggling with challenging behaviors.

Georgia Center for Research and Support

<http://www.gacrs.org/training/265>

These webinars are free of charge. If you contact the manager, you can take the test and be issued a certificate—all free of charge. The information is excellent.
