

Dear Snowflakes Families,

I am so pleased to join you in celebrating the 20th anniversary of the Snowflakes Embryo Adoption Program.

I still recall vividly the phone call I had with Marlene and John Strege back in 1997. After seeking counsel from professionals in the medical community, I told Marlene and John that I believed embryo adoption would be honorable before God. They have become great friends with whom, even to this day, I continue to keep in touch. Their daughter, Hannah, has become such a delightful young lady

Our God is the Creator and Sustainer of life and each of you have determined to honor God by either placing or adopting embryos to give them life!

Today I would like to applaud the placing parents for choosing to donate embryos for reproduction, thus giving them an opportunity to be born and live the life for which God created them. I applaud the adopting families for choosing this very unique and special adoption path for bringing children into your lives.

Over 500 babies! Isn't that fantastic? It is my prayer that more families like yours will choose life and encourage others to do the same.

Congratulations,
